Foreign students test bioenergies at Iguazu Falls

International Week conectou pessoas de 13 países

 Nerli Vieira  ISIC

The second international week, which took place from 16 to 25 August, brought together over 40 participants, 23 from abroad and involved 13 different countries: Africa, Germany, Australia, Brazil, Chile, Spain, USA, France, New Zealand, Puerto Rico, Portugal, Romania and Slovenia. During its 10 days of all-English activities, the International Week of Conscientiology promoted by ISIC - Interassistential Services for the Internationalization of Conscientiology and CEAEC, exceeded expectations of connecting consciousnesses and strengthening inter-assistential ties regardless of the language. Since the opening dinner at Hotel Mabu Interludium and Book Signing on the first day, interaction and access to conscientiological content have been present in each activity.

"People came from further places and we had volunteers from the first week who participated as students and volunteers now," noted event coordinator Magali Ornellas. The activities, built on the pillars 'self-knowledge and parapsychism', involved 13 conscientiocentric institutions. "We started with self-research, going through the existential balance, so that the students could think about their life program; then they had the analysis of personal traits; Then came the construction of the code of personal cosmoethics and so on. In the second part of the week, parapsychism, the study of phenomena, retrocognition and the investigation of past lives came in." The marathon also featured the Parasurgery Dynamics, the Acoplamentarium Laboratory and various dynamics chosen by the students during the event.

Another innovation was the group tour in Iguazu Falls, a bioenergetic look that provided direct experience with the abundant hydro, flora, fauna and aero-energies in the place. The group visited the Iguazu Falls accompanied by biologist and epicon Roberto Leiming. "My main perception was a combination of the diversity of people, nationalities and cultures, with different backgrounds relating parapsychic education. So we combined this diversity with the diversity of aspects of nature and the various energies we tested there," says Roberto.

Students had a specific time to expose their needs and volunteer projects in their countries. They were also able to participate in the 13th International Conscientiological Areopagus and the first international edition, with the theme 'Internationalization of Conscientiology', ending the week of activities with fraternism and understanding of groupness towards conscientiological evolution.

Testimonials

"I was looking forward to talking to my friends Jeffrey and Jaclyn." (Kristen Cooper from Wollongong, Australia)

"I always wanted to come to Foz and I found her much grander and more beautiful than in the pictures. I love the people here and I feel a difference in the environment and the energies. It's much clearer and more focused. I love it so much." (Adrian Moleavin, Romania, Eastern Europe)

"I wanted to come here because I have so many questions: why is there harassment and how can I improve my life? Sometimes, during energy work, courses, dynamics, some answers come and harmonize the conflict so that I can do differently, create new perceptions, insights and new ways of understanding the problem to solve it more easily." (Heidi Hanson of San Francisco, California, USA)

"I enjoyed being here because it is very impressive how things are organized. I like the energies that are almost everywhere. I love it, it's very stimulating, it means self-evolution, thinking and perceiving new things." (Darja Mihajlovic, Slovenia, Europe)

Welcoming to volunteers is now structured

 Nerti Vieira  Unicin

The Volunteer Reception Service has just been structured at Unicin's Intervoluntary Council. The coordinator of the council, Giuliano Branco, explains that the main focus of this service is to welcome, listen and refer the volunteer with some type of dissatisfaction about the activity that develops in volunteering. "Our goal is to meet the demands of ICCC volunteers, to present the projects, activities and holothosene of each CI to assist the new volunteer in choosing the conscientio-centric institution."

SAV serves from interested and active volunteers to former volunteers, resident or not in the city of Foz do Iguaçu.

However, it is not the role of the council to meet personal and professional demands of the volunteer, such as housing, financial and professional guidance, explains Giuliano.

Giuliano also points out that support is given so that volunteers of consci-entiology can develop their individual activities in a professional manner, observing aspects of the conscientio-centric paradigm.

"Even in the absence of face-to-face service, the demands for extraphysical care are met, like in a group pentagram," explains Giuliano. For this, even without scheduling, the team keeps a routine committed to being present on the days and times of the appointments, at room 204 of Unicin, striving for intra and extra physical assistance.

Those interested can email us at: sav@unicin.org or contact us by phone: (45) 2102-1405 to schedule the availability of days and hours of service.

Assipi makes reform in Brazil and partnership abroad

 Nerti Vieira  Press Release

Assipi has completed the renovation of its headquarters at the Discernmentum in Foz do Iguaçu, making its structure more comfortable and welcoming for its volunteers and people who seek assistance.

The reform was necessary due to the growing flow of people in the institution, which has about 70% of free activities, such as: parapsychic support service, parapsychic considerations - a debate open to the public - and the Chinese technical workshops that have an average of 10 to 12 people per workshop. "In July, we attended 286 people for free. And in this first time of the Praxis Course in Foz do Iguaçu, immersion and without prerequisites, with the fixed theme of forgiveness, many first-time people managed to make it" clarifies Glaucia Lara, general coordinator of Assipi.

"This course, Effects of Forgiveness, has only one problem: you are not content with one go, it seems that you can never forgive how it should be done, forgive from the inside out," says student Vera Vidal from Rio de Janeiro.

In Portugal, Assipi's team continues to expand: in partnership with Reaprendentia, it held the Craniochakral Voltaic Arc Course with instructor epicon Alexandre Fernandes on July 27-28 in Deerfield Beach, Florida.

The 15 years of Energosomatic Dynamics

  Rosane Amadori

The celebration of the 15th anniversary of the Energosomatic Dynamics brought together 48 conscins at the CEAEC hall. The special edition had free admission on August 11, led by epicon Alexander Steiner who, from the beginning, was at the forefront of conducting the energetic work of dynamics.

The Energosomatic Dynamics was founded on August 7, 2004, at the headquarters of IIPC, in downtown Foz do Iguaçu. Initially, says Steiner, the meetings were held at the headquarters and then transferred to the Discernimentum, where they remained, being held twice a week for about 5 years. During this period, the Energosomatic Immersion course was created, taught in the dynamics model, with exercises of energochakral development, which toured the country taught by epicon and other instructors. The group traveled with the course through Brazil until 2012.

In 2013, Energosomatica was transferred to the OIC, where Steiner was a volunteer, and there it was held until mid-2015. "A few months before Professor Waldo's desoma, I began to think about the importance of bringing the dynamics to the CEAEC, within an overall view, due to the lack of intrusion there," says the epicon.

During this period, he continues, Waldo Vieira was preparing for surgery and everyone trusted the recovery. "The dynamics was transferred to CEAEC and, less than a month later, he desomated. When this happened, I understood the call of the helpers to add to the other work in maintaining the deintrusion and the energy standards of the campus," says Steiner.

Currently, this dynamic is held weekly on Sundays, from 6.30 pm to 8.30 pm.

Judge of the Court of Justice gives lecture at Cognópolis

  Juriscons

On August 8 and 9, the Cognopolis received the visit of the 2nd Vice-President of the Justice Tribunal of Paraná (TJ/PR), associate judge José Laurindo de Souza Netto. The magistrate came by an invitation of the International Association of Paralegals (JURISCONS) and delivered the lecture Adequate methods of conflicts solution: projects developed by the 2nd Vice-presidency of the TJ/PR, at the opening of the 11th Paralegals Forum, at CEAEC. The invitation was motivated by the judge's work in mapping conflict resolution initiatives, through the use of mediation, negotiation, conciliation and arbitration techniques. In addition to lecturing, Souza Netto attended a presentation on Paradigital Assistance Services (SAP), a community service activity conducted by Juriscons using specific techniques and approach to conflicts and legal demands.

"The exchange of the visit favored the approach of Juriscons with societal instances, opening possibilities for partnerships for the insertion of activities of Paralegals in society," said the coordinator of the institution, Márcia Ramm.

The associate judge was impressed with Campus Ceac and expressed interest in conducting research, especially in Peace Square, Alley of Genius of Humanity and Holotheca/Holocycle. The full conference is available at:

Release

Launched on August 30 at the Hotel Mabu Interludium and the 31st at the Mentalsomatic Circle, Selma Prata's work, The Brain Ages and the Parabrains Enriches, brings us a broad study of the most important intraphysical object to study, the brain and the parabrains, where lies the capacity of the human being to learn and relearn.

The book addresses the challenge of realizing the true nature and potential of aging skull mass, as well as the actual vision of the enriching parabrains. Therefore, the prioritization of paracerebral use with a focus on pro-evolutionary development is fundamental for the best use of intraphysical consciousness, seeking continuity through access to information and skills already gained in previous lives.

HAPPENING

➡ Discernimentum users can now travel more comfortably inside the Campus due to the newly added asphalt. According Maria Teixeira, center's administrative manager, asphalt paving was an old and expensive project that was waiting for the right moment due to the budget. This year, Discernimentum accepted a partnership proposal, made by AIEC coordinator Cesar Cordioli, to expedite the laying of asphalt, signage and curb. The next step will be the construction of parking lots to remove cars that are parked on the main street. "An important point is the awareness of users to respect the speed limit of 20km/h. If there were this awareness it would not be necessary a bumper" recalled Maria. Another good news is that Rua da Cosmoética, after Ceaec, also gained asphalt.

➡ Cosmoethos will hold the I International Symposium on Cosmoethics, with the theme cosmoethics and democracy, in person and online, from October 4 to 06, 2019 at the Hotel Mabu Interludium in Foz do Iguacu. If democcracy is "government of the people whose political regime is based on the principles of popular sovereignty and the equitable distribution of power", included in its exercise the Conscientiological Laboratory of Cosmoethics (Vieira, 2018. Verbete: Democracy), and if the cosmoethics "it is a platform for making less mistakes "and" eliminating the useless sufferings of human consciousness" (Vieira, 2007. Our Evolution. p. 64), how to exert power in a cosmoethical and equanimous manner, in order to get more right? These and other issues will be discussed at the event with authors from Conscientiology and the Academy.

Check out the complete schedule at www.cosmoethos.org.br and make your registration through the phones (45) 99129-4122 or 3525-2652.

Students from Santa Terezinha de Itaipu get to know CEAEC

📷 Nerli Vieira 📷 CEAEC

A group of 40 students from Carlos Zewe Coimbra College and Dom Manoel Konner State College of Santa Terezinha de Itaipu met the CEAEC bioenergetic spa on 08/20/2019, accompanied by teachers Rosane Meneghetti and Fabiane Lavarda. "It was a real awakening! Just gratitude for the doors always open. Just gratitude for the opportunity to learn and know. Thank you for the humility of the group of volunteers who welcomed and accompanied us, as well as the authors of the books that kindly presented us with their works." commented Professor Rosane who has been accompanying groups of students for almost 10 years to Ceaec and said that the students were dazzled by the Campus, thanked the opportunity and demonstrated the desire to study more about conscientiology, more about Waldo Vieira's story, more about everything.

A student comment summarizes all the feeling about the visit:

*"It's more than I know
It's more than I thought*

*It's more than I expected
It's like I dreamed". (Tim Maia)*
